Svetla Ilieva found her real passion in life in the magic of the Celtic harp and has dedicated her efforts to transferring these inspiring feelings in her performances. She has participated in charity concerts, played at the opening of contemporary photographic and art exhibitions and has contributed to the unique atmosphere of other events such as International Festival in the open air, Christmas events and concert, book presentations, ladies parties, private happenings and weddings.

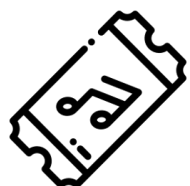

Her various interests, including Master's degrees in Archaeology, Egyptology and yoga instructor's license combine perfectly with the harp playing, allowing her to experiment in the field of ancient culture and art. She has participated in various projects such as recitation of the harpists songs of Ancient Egypt, recitals at the Ancient Thracian rock sanctuaries, concerts, accompanying archaeological excavations in the Rhodope mountains, etc.

During 2015 she was a resident performer at the 5-star TAJ Group's flagship hotel - the iconic Taj Mahal hotel in New Delhi where she performed for global dignitaries.

Her repertoire is rich and diverse, comprising classical, Celtic, jazz-rock, pop, movie soundtracks and folk music and she is open for multi-cultural musical experience.
